Lowell Elementary

Lowell Elementary is where we decided to teach about recycling. We taught Mrs. Julie Favorite and Mrs. Jessica Celaya’s kindergarten classes, getting to reach out to 40 students.

EMPACTS Project 2009:

Recycling

Becca Bladow
Katie Lausin
Carmela Rogers
Jessica Stansell
Jenica Sudduth

Dr. Thomason
M-W 9:30

Meeting the Students

The first day we met with the class, we introduced ourselves and recycling.

We talked about what is recycling.

We discussed what you can recycle and what you cannot with examples of each.

We answered the students’ questions about whether or not certain items are recyclable or not.

Fun with Recycling

Recycling

The following visits we had activities for the students.

We Read a big book about recycling and handed out activity sheets.

We worked with each class individually on an arts and crafts project on recycling.

We had the students’ answer what recycling was and what items can be recycled.

We handed out reusable shopping bags, shopping lists, and pencils to help the students begin to “go green.”

Last Day with the Classes